

Asia-Pacific Golf Challenge

When: October 21, 2002
What time: 6:30am – 12:30pm
Where: Eldorado Golf Club
Who: ABAC & PBEC

Come and represent your economy on one of the most beautiful courses in Los Cabos. The Eldorado Golf Course was designed by Jack Nicklaus; with five holes adjacent to the ocean and 4 lakes. We have negotiated an excellent price for this time of year and we hope to have a great turnout of ABAC and PBEC Members.

Of the top ten international golf destinations of the world, Mexico ranked tenth in 1996. This situation changed dramatically in 1997 when Mexico leaped to second spot behind Hawaii. How did Mexico manage to surpass such popular golf destinations as the Caribbean within one year? We believe it was because the world's golfers discovered championship golf in Los Cabos.

It's not everyday that you play golf with hazards such as passing seagulls and sea lions. The natural beauty of this course has been known to ruin even the best golfers' game as they become hypnotized by the view of the Pacific Ocean. Be sure to bring your camera on this outing!

We feel it's necessary to warn all golfers of the giant ball-eating clams off the south side of the 9th and 18th holes. If you are right handed, you better control your slice on these tee shots. A hungry clam can cost you 3 swings and $10 in golf balls.
